

Back to back events in London

SHP IOSH Awards and the Security Excellence Awards
Hilton Park Lane Hotel - October 2009

Sound and Vision technically produced two back to back award ceremonies at the Hilton Park Lane Hotel in London. Two very different award schemes but for the same client, we were able to offer a very cost effective stage design to suit both ceremonies. Using a very unique lozenge shaped central screen to show the main presentation content and animated category sequences, two further large side screens showed live camera relay and holding slides, giving fantastic brand identity throughout the evening.

For the SHP IOSH Awards, an event specific print framed the base of the lozenge screen and created a walk on feature (along with the star cloth) for the presenter - comedian Hugh Dennis - sponsors and guest speakers.

For the Security Excellence Awards, aside from changing the graphics content and animated sequences, we also changed the base to two printed designs based on their event branding and design - again creating a presenter walk on, this time for Ronnie Corbett!
